SPECIFIC industries have come to learn that this organization can coordinate its knowledge and ability to fit the exact requirements of the particular industry. Sugar producers, automotive plants, iron and steel manufacturers, railroads, Governments, etc., have had demonstrated to their satisfaction the character and scope of our facilities in constructing steel structures for specific industries.

Seven of the largest fabricating shops in the world, a closely knit, systematized organization, plus the ability to perform rather than to promise—these are at your command to assist you on your requirements for steel structures.

NEWS AND COMMENT

Presidential Situation Unchanged No successor to Dr. Drinker has as yet been elected by the Board of Trustees. On June 14, a meeting of the Trustees was held to consider the recommendations made by the Alumni Conference Committee and the Faculty Committee. The Faculty Committee reported that action by the entire Faculty had resulted in the selection of the names of three men who were recommended to the Board of Trustees as excellent presidential timber. The Alumni report named seven men, and three of the seven coincided with the Faculty recommendation. The Trustees, after studying these two reports, created a committee of three Trustees with power to secure a president for Lehigh. Naturally the attention of this Committee was first directed to the three men whose names were common to the Faculty and Alumni reports. It is no secret that in the case of one of these gentlemen a most favorable opinion was formed in the minds of all the Trustees who met him. It seems likely that if this man is not available another of similar type and attainments will be selected. Meanwhile Lehigh must start a new year with the question of her future leadership unsettled.

Every Lehigh man will give Dr. Emery, Vice-President and Acting President, full credit for the way in which he is handling a very difficult situation. The loss of "Ray" Walters, our most efficient Registrar, who has been appointed Dean of Swarthmore College, the death of Professor Blake, the absence of Professor Palmer, who is spending his Sabbatical year in Europe, all combine to increase the difficulty of handling this situation. However, the Faculty are strongly upholding Dr. Emery's hands and it is hoped that alumni and students will do likewise, so that Lehigh may not suffer during the interval which apparently must elapse before the new leader is chosen and takes command.

To speak plainly, neither the old administration, the Trustees or the Alumni have displayed great wisdom in the handling of the situation growing out of Dr. Drinker's resignation. But it is always easy to see your mistakes after the event has passed. At any rate the situation has now reached the stage it should have reached a year ago. The Trustees are actively trying to solve the problem and the Faculty and Alumni having given the help that was asked for are awaiting with confidence a selection by the Trustees. If such a selection cannot be made without further help from Faculty and Alumni both bodies stand ready to answer any call that may be made.

The Memorial Building The time seems about ripe for letting the contract for our Memorial. Prices have dropped so considerably that it is fair to suppose they are approaching the bottom. Two things, however, check the Building Committee. First, the failure of many men to complete their subscriptions. This is due largely to the present business depression. However, with $300,000 in hand it would seem safe to let the contract. The second thing is perhaps more serious. This memorial is to be an Administration building, and certainly whoever is to be our new president should have a say in the interior arrangement of the offices he and his staff will use. The Building Committee and the architects dislike making the many decisions necessary in planning the size, arrangement, finish and fittings of these executive offices, facing as they do the possibility that our president when chosen may change existing administration machinery. If possible we wish to await the choice of a new president before proceeding with our Memorial.

Bulletin Guarantee Fund The Class Guarantee Funds which were raised last year in support of the BULLETIN by '79 and every Class from '83 to '20, inclusive, proved a great success. Not only did the BULLETIN in its first year as a monthly secure a paid subscription list of 4,000 but in addition class activity and loyalty was greatly stimulated. Remember this was the first year that a subscription price was charged for the BULLETIN. Formerly it was sent free to all alumni. We had, all told, less than 5000 alumni for whom we had addresses. A fair number of subscribers for the first year would have been 1500. This would have averaged well with the existing percentage of subscribers to most alumni magazines. To get over 80% of the entire list of graduates and non-graduates the first year is an almost incredible performance. It was due largely to the loyalty of a small number of men in each class and we do not have the heart to ask them to come through again. Those classes who desire to help we will welcome with open arms but there will be no effort to push this burden on reluctant shoulders.

Of course '90, who started the plan, will keep it up, and a number of other classes have such a large credit from last year that they can continue without making any call this year for contributions to their guarantee fund. Two classes should receive particular mention. '91 through its active Secretary, Walton Forstall, has collected and paid in advance a class subscription. The BULLETIN subscription is $2.00, but the class gets a deduction of 25% if they subscribe as a class. Forstall collected all the $2.00 subscriptions he could and then added enough from the class treasury to give an amount equal to the total class enrollment multiplied by $1.50 and paid this in to the Treasurer of the Alumni Association. Of course this don't relieve the ones who have not as yet paid their BULLETIN subscription but they owe it to the class and not to the Alumni Association and if they come through, their money, whether paid to Forstall or to the Alumni Office, will go to '91's treasury.

But '03 has gone '91 one better. They have not only guaranteed their BULLETIN subscriptions for all their class but their dues as well. Here again the Alumni Association gives a 25% deduction on dues as well as BULLETIN subscriptions. Furthermore, all back dues collected go into the class treasury. All we ask is that the class collect and pay in advance each year 75% of the total of current dues and BULLETIN subscriptions. It took nerve for '03 to attempt this, for less than 50% of their members are active members. But a bunch of live wires in '03 underwrote the scheme and "Art" Frick, Dyer Smith and N. A. Wolcott are putting it through. Of course this is the ideal arrangement and if all classes would adopt it the Alumni Office would be freed from the constant struggle to make ends meet. Not only that, but all the time now devoted to collecting dues could be given to constructive work. If every man paid his dues and subscription the class would benefit by 25% of this amount, which would make a fine nest-egg for reunions. Of course it means work. Did you ever know anything worth while that didn't?

But even though your class does not follow '90's plan of guaranteeing the subscriptions of all members, '91's plan of collecting and paying for all subscriptions in advance, or '03's of collecting and paying the dues and subscriptions of the entire class, you can at least appoint a committee with a member in every district to canvass your class thoroughly and line them up as individuals. A year or two of this kind of work and you will have a class with a real organization, ready, able and willing to do as much for Lehigh as any class that ever entered her portals.

Lehigh's History We regret our inability to publish an installment of Mrs. Catherine Drinker Bowen's delightful story of Lehigh in this number. The Alumni Day Proceedings take so much room that even after increasing our size we find ourselves without space. However, we promise our readers a large and interesting installment of Mrs. Bowen's "Lehigh University" in the November issue.

Some very interesting alumni news is also omitted in this number which will appear in our next issue.

Football Tickets During October you will receive your application blank for tickets for the Lehigh-Lafayette game. Send it in promptly to the Athletic Committee, Taylor Gymnasium. Do not send it to the Alumni Association. This would only double the work and might result in your failing to get the tickets ordered. The demand is going to be tremendous, so act promptly when you get your application. Price of tickets will be the same as last year, namely, $3.00. The W. & J. game on October 22 and the West Virginia game on October 29 are also going to draw big crowds. If you wish good seats write to Prof. H. R. Reiter, Taylor Gymnasium, Bethlehem, Pa., enclosing $2.00 for each seat desired and he will mail them to you. If you wish them registered enclose ten cents extra.

Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association of the Lehigh University, Inc.

Held in Drown Memorial Hall, Lehigh University, June 11, 1921

The meeting was called to order at 11 a.m. by the President, C. D. Marshall, '88.

On motion by R. H. Morris, '89, seconded by H. S. Miner, '88, the roll-call was dispensed with and the Secretary was authorized to take the roll-call from the registration cards turned in to his office.

On motion by B. T. Converse, '99, seconded by H. T. Morris, '91, the reading of the minutes of the last Annual Meeting was also dispensed with and they were approved as published in the June, 1920, ALUMNI BULLETIN.

The President then appointed the following men to act as Tellers to count and report on the vote cast for new officers: John H. Flory, '01; Percy L. Grubb, '01; Paul T. Krause, '01; Russell S. Collins, '11, and Walter G. Schall, '11.

Doctor H. S. Drinker, '71, then exhibited to the meeting the beautiful flag which had been presented to the Lehigh Reserve Officers' Training Corps by H. S. Drinker, '71; Charles L. Taylor, '76, and W. A. Wilbur (Hon.), '20. The thanks and appreciation of the Association for this generous action was expressed by the meeting.

The Secretary then reported on the two meetings of the Board of Directors held during the past year.

NINTH MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Held in the McClintic-Marshall Office, 50 Church Street, New York City, October 15, 1920.

This meeting was an informal gathering to which the members of the Alumni Educational Committee were invited. It was called to order by the President, C. D. Marshall, '88, at 11 a.m., and continued in session until 5 p.m. The work of the Educational Committee was the main topic of discussion and a preliminary report was drafted for presentation at a joint meeting with the trustees and faculty if such a meeting could be arranged.

TENTH MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Held in the Bethlehem Club, Bethlehem, Pa., on June 10, 1921

The meeting was called to order by the President, Charles D. Marshall, '88, at 12.30 p.m. The financial report for the year was read by the Treasurer and accepted by the Board. The Board, on motion, then took formal action to re-affirm a resolution adopted at the seventh meeting, held January 16, 1920, which fixed the Secretary's salary for the three years succeeding June, 1920. A committee, consisting of Aubrey Weymouth, '94; Franklin Baker, Jr., '95, and H. D. Wilson, '01, was appointed to aid in raising the necessary funds for conducting the Alumni office, it being understood that they were only to function in case of a deficit occurring in any fiscal year.

It was moved and seconded that a recognized accountant should audit the accounts yearly. Carried.

The Secretary was instructed to hire a young man to act as bookkeeper and to aid in the other duties of the office.

At the request of the Secretary, he was granted permission to devote himself during the coming year largely to undergraduate affairs.

Moved and seconded that the Treasurer and the Secretary be authorized to transfer and accept ownership of any registered bonds turned in to the Association to cover Life Membership or for any other purpose.

The election of Alumni members for the Lehigh University Athletic Committee resulted in the re-election of E. G. Grace, '00, and Timothy Burns, '01, for a period of two years from June, 1921.

The next in order of business was the report of the Executive Secretary for the past year.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY June, 1920—June, 1921

The past year has been a busy one for the Alumni Office. The work of the Alumni Conference Committee, the Educational Committee and the Memorial Committee have taken much of the time of the Secretary. In addition the change of the BULLETIN from a quarterly to a monthly and the installation of a complete new filing system increased the routine work of the office considerably. The splendid support of not only individual alumni but of clubs and classes made it possible to carry the work through successfully and we have reason to feel that our formative period is past and that we can look forward to a steady support which will make for an increasing usefulness of our Association.

Alumni Conference Committee

The most important work of the year was that of the Alumni Conference Committee, which was formed at the call of the Trustees to aid in choosing a president for Lehigh. This Committee has worked hard and had in its work the unvarying support of both clubs and individual alumni. Over a hundred names were investigated and a very complete record obtained in regard to all of the most promising material. A great number of meetings were held with the Trustees' Committee and also the Faculty Committee. In half a dozen cases, special meetings were arranged to meet men who seemed worthy of careful consideration. It has been a very hard task and to date an unfinished one, although the information now in the hands of the Trustees will, we hope, aid materially in the final solution of this problem. It is worthy of note that in addition to the cost to the Alumni Association, which was heavy, many individual alumni and clubs have spent a great deal of time and money in aid of this work.

The Educational Committee

The work of the Educational Committee has gone steadily forward during the year and preliminary reports have been made covering all departments. This spring two joint meetings were held with the Faculty Committee on Educational Policy which we feel were most productive. It is planned to continue these joint meetings at regular intervals to aid the alumni in a better understanding of Lehigh's educational problems and bring to the faculty the viewpoint of the practicing engineer and business man. Out of this we hope may come a real advance towards the solution of the great present day problem,—how shall a boy be educated so as to best prepare him to meet and surmount the difficulties of modern industrial life?

Alumni Memorial Committee

We present later the Treasurer's report of the present financial condition of the Memorial Fund. Roughly, $380,000 was subscribed, of which about $300,000 has been paid. The high prices of material and labor during the past year made it inadvisable to start building and this has slowed up the collection of the final payments due on subscriptions. Many men have said they were ready to complete payment as soon as the money was required but until it was they had use for it. Of course, that is perfectly fair, but nevertheless the interest we are earning on the money paid in will come in mighty handy when we start to build. Even if we collect all the money subscribed, we will still lack a quarter of the amount we set as our goal. Unless we get the full amount we cannot build the Memorial we have planned, furnish it and endow it and certainly we must not think of giving our University a building without at the same time giving it the necessary funds for maintaining it. The present plan is to watch the market closely and let the contract when the prices seem right. We will then set aside what is required for endowment out of the funds now on hand and go out after the additional funds needed to complete the building.

The Alumni Bulletin

Making the ALUMNI BULLETIN a monthly is all that kept the Association off the financial rocks during the past year. The splendid work the classes did with the Guarantee Funds helped us to a subscription list of over 4000. These subscriptions put into our treasury about $6000, which we otherwise would not have had. The advertising almost paid the printing and postage bills, so that this subscription money could be applied to cover salaries, supplies and other office expenses. We certainly needed the money, for the work of the Conference Committee increased our traveling and entertainment expense fourfold and almost doubled telephone and telegraph expense. Our new filing system cost considerable and finally we did not have, as we had last year, the right to call on the Memorial Committee to pay part of the Secretary's salary. The BULLETIN has made the work of the Association during the past year possible.

Membership

The active membership of the Association has increased fourfold during the past four years, being now in the neighborhood of 2500. The Life Membership Fund has increased from $450 to over $27,000. The Association today is on a fair financial footing and can continue so provided the work by the classes which started last June, when 1890 made the original class guarantee of the BULLETIN subscriptions for the entire class, is continued. This don't mean raising more guarantee funds, but it does mean working to get at least 75% of every class sufficiently interested so they pay their own BULLETIN subscription and yearly dues. I intend to work all summer trying to get the delinquents to come through for the past year, and what I would like to see would be for each class to make an effort to get men who paid their BULLETIN subscriptions last year to pay again for the coming year in advance so that next September each class can put up the money for the yearly subscriptions of its members. At the rate the class gets of $1.50 it could pay for a third more subscriptions than the same money would buy for individuals and as a number of classes have a credit balance now, it should not be a hard job to get enough money to cover the entire class list, especially if this list is combed over carefully and the dead wood called out, as many classes have done or are doing.

The New Filing System

Every Lehigh man, graduate, non-graduate or undergraduate has now his own folder file in which are placed all news about him or letters to or from him. Each man has also his address card giving name, degree, class, business, business address and residence, also his stencil for addressing him and his ledger card showing his payments or indebtedness to the Alumni Association. In addition we expect to have a second stencil for the BULLETIN. The first set of stencils we will arrange by classes and the second set geographically, so that class or club lists can be run off at a moment's notice and always be up to date. This will be done as soon as our campaign for BULLETIN subscribers is over and the classes have all prepared and submitted official lists. We will carry no stencils for men who are not either active members, BULLETIN subscribers or whose subscriptions are not guaranteed by their class. We want to bring about in the near future a state of affairs where a man's membership in the Lehigh Alumni Association means a lot to him and where if he drops out he must apply in a regular way through his class for reinstatement.

In closing, I will read the names of the Lehigh Alumni who have died during the year. In accordance with our usual custom, we will stand during the reading of this list:

A. C. Dodson, Treasurer.

H. T. Morris, '91, was then called upon for a report of the year's work of the Alumni Educational Committee.

REPORT OF THE ALUMNI EDUCATIONAL COMMITTEE

Your Committee is composed of men actively engaged in business and, therefore, possibilities for meetings are frequently interfered with, as recently by the absence of one member in Cuba and Panama; and previously by the absence of another member in England; while frequently members are obliged to be in distant parts of our country at times set for meetings.

This condition of affairs seems to be a necessary accompaniment of the presence of active men on your Committee, but, nevertheless, the Committee has, in the past year, had two meetings of its own membership and two meetings jointly with the Faculty Committee on Educational Policy.

In the second of the Joint Meetings referred to (held yesterday), chief attention was given to the discussion of methods for the reduction of "mortality" among students, particularly in the Freshman Class. The Faculty Committee had given this matter much study and presented a considerable amount of carefully prepared and important data.

The Faculty Committee's report included tabulations of results of various methods of selection for admission to the Freshman Class:

- By entrance examination,
- By certification from Preparatory Schools and
- By a combination of both.

These results were based on the percentage which the number of graduates bore to the number of Freshman entrants and in the case of our own University covered most of the life of the institution, during which period all three of the above mentioned methods have been, at one time or another, in use. Similar tabulations were presented for other Universities. The action of the Joint Meeting which considered this matter was that the present system of accepting certificates from Preparatory Schools be, for the present, recommended for continuance; but that steps should be taken to form a list of schools whose certificates form really valuable credentials.

Discussion of the question of Freshman "mortality" and of the larger question of health, morals and scholastic progress of students, resulted in the recommendation by the Joint Committee that the matter be considered of providing Dormitories on the Campus in which all Freshmen would be expected to live; subject to such exceptions as the Faculty might determine.

Your Alumni Committee was much gratified with the exposition of plans by the Faculty Committee looking toward more effective methods of personal advice to students from the Instruction Staff concerning not only scholastic matters but every phase of life which students may desire or need.

Your Alumni Committee has stressed in these Joint Meetings, the necessity for keeping up the standard of preparation for life as Engineer or Professional man as well as good citizen, so that a Lehigh Degree will continue to be a gilt-edged guarantee. The Faculty Committee, in agreement with us, has developed and recommended modifications in the courses with the object of concentrating on subjects essential and fundamental to each course by eliminating certain time-consuming subjects of minor value; and by considering preparation hours, with the object of requiring from the student a certain maximum number of working hours per week, which shall in no Course be excessive but which shall be large enough to require daily, honest devotion to the work.

Your Educational Committee has kept its mind open and its senses alert for criticisms, complaints and suggestions from the older Alumni, many of whom are employers, as well as from the younger Alumni, who often suggest betterments in the Courses they have taken. Careful, deliberate combination of the Committee's personal observations, with the comments of others, will lead later to some definite remedial criticism of our educational establishment and methods. The time has not yet arrived when the Committee feels that it is ready to publish conclusions along these lines.

At the conclusion of Morris' report, E. C. DeKay, '95, was recognized by the chair and told of a meeting called by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and held in New York, at which meeting it was decided to hold a conference in October, 1921, of those interested in bringing about a standardization of educational methods. He recommended that our Educational Committee send a representative.

W. A. WILBUR.

After reading the financial report, Mr. Wilbur talked of the presidential situation. He said that both the Faculty and Alumni Committees had submitted reports embodying recommendations and that these reports would be presented to the Board of Trustees at a meeting to be held the following Tuesday (June 14).

Prof. H. R. Reiter, Head of the Department of Physical Education, then read the following report:

REPORT OF THE LEHIGH UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC COMMITTEE
College Year 1920-21

To the President and Members of the Lehigh University Alumni Association:

Dear Sirs:

On behalf of the Athletic Committee, we respectfully submit the following report of its personnel, finances and its policy:

Finances

The attached report of the Treasurer shows that the past year was the best in the history of the University.

Membership

University: Dr. H. S. Drinker, Dr. N. M. Emery.

Trustee: Mr. W. A. Wilbur.

Faculty: Professors W. L. Wilson, J. L. Beaver, and H. R. Reiter.

Alumni: Messrs. E. G. Grace, W. R. Okeson, Geo. Beck and Timothy Burns.

Students: Lathrop Bevan, Chairman;
Hyman Goldman, Representative-at-Large;
D. C. Pfeiffer, Senior Representative; L. H.

Coleman, Junior Representative; J. H. Lees, Sophomore Representative.

Policy

Recognizing the educational value of sport and play in the development of a boy's life, your Committee has endeavored to give a very liberal financial support, a sympathetic direction and a kindly interest to these activities.

The big problem that confronts us at the present is the lack of playing space in spite of our well-equipped gymnasium and the upper and lower playing fields.

The Committee this year supported in full Football, Wrestling, Basketball, Lacrosse, Track, Swimming and Tennis. It gave partial financial support to Freshman basketball and Freshman baseball and varsity soccer. Next year a Freshman wrestling team, a varsity soccer team and a scrub football team will receive full financial support.

Gentlemen, I venture to say that no college in the United States of one thousand men is giving support to this number of activities and very few of the larger or the largest universities can equal this support.

A Creed

We believe with Huxley that a liberal education must be built on a physical basis and in this respect he contributes most to this end "who has been so trained in youth that his body is the ready servant of his will and does with ease and pleasure all the work that as a mechanism it is capable of."

2. We believe in the benefit of sport for all, strongly recognizing the innate tendencies and the instinctive drives of the boy's nature for self mastery, assertion and a satisfaction which attains its end in inter-collegiate sport.

3. We believe that the playground and the athletic field are a classroom of applied ethics and that victory gained only by fair play and true sportsmanship is worth the while.

4. We further believe that one of the great lessons of progress and success in life lies in cooperation or team work and that the athletic field offers special opportunities to learn this lesson.

5. We believe that the danger of professionalism lies chiefly in the spirit or attitude of mind rather than obeying or avoiding the chameleon-like interpretation of a set of rules.

6. Lastly, if your Committee would inscribe on the walls of its trophy room a motto embodying the spirit of those who have fought for Lehigh's glory in the past and as an inspiration to the incoming youth of the future, it would be in the words of Tennyson's Ulysses:

"To strive, to seek, to find and not to yield,
In victory or defeat—a gentleman."

H. R. REITER, Secretary.

Under the head of new business it was moved and seconded that all associate members in good standing not previously elected to full membership be so elected. Carried.

E. G. Grace, '99, was then recognized by the Chair and he brought before the meeting the need of the Alumni having an Endowment Committee to cooperate with the Committees of the Faculty and the Board of Trustees. He spoke with enthusiasm of the splendid work of Dr. Drinker in raising a half million of endowment and of the further work to be done in completing the million which he had set as his mark. Accordingly Dr. Drinker was elected Chairman of an Alumni Committee on Endowment, the other members of which committee are to be appointed by the President of the Alumni Association in cooperation with Dr. Drinker.

Dr. Drinker was then called upon to tell those present who had been absent from the Alumni Dinner of the night before the details of the work already done and that projected. He stated that the Rockefeller Foundation had contributed $250,000 and the Carnegie Foundation $250,000 on the understanding that an additional $500,000 be raised by our own efforts within a year. This additional million in endowment will give an increase in income sufficient to take care of our pressing needs. The Doctor reported that the Rockefeller Foundation started in January, 1921, to pay over to Lehigh the income on their gift and the Carnegie Foundation would start on October 1, 1921, to do the same, thus showing not only a great generosity but an abiding confidence in our ability to meet the conditions laid down by raising a half million by our own efforts within a year.

It was then announced by the Secretary that the graduating class of 1921 had pledged 100% membership in the Association and had already paid in a considerable amount to cover dues and BULLETIN subscriptions during the coming year.

The announcement of the results of the contest for the Active Membership Cup was made. All classes were eligible this year to compete for this cup except the two previous winners, '83 and '17. The winner proved to be 1920, with a percentage of active members of 59.7%, being a total of 120 active members out of a class list of 201. '18 was second, with 55.9%, and '89 third, with 54.7%. It is worthy of note that '83, the first winner of the cup, had a membership this year of 72.4%, an increase over their winning percentage two years ago. The percentage of last year's winner, '17, was also high, being 58.6%. The president of 1917, "Ady" Bach, then presented the cup to "Eddie" Forstall, acting for 1920's class president, Mercer B. Tate, Jr., who was unavoidably absent.

Before calling on the tellers for their report, President Marshall made a short address in which he asked the Alumni to be patient and not expect impossibilities from the Trustees in the matter of electing a president. He stated that the Trustees are working in perfect harmony with the Alumni in this matter and that everyone had but one thought—the securing of the best man possible for the presidency.

Marshall then presented this thought for consideration. Premising that all that a poor but ambitious boy wants is an OPPORTUNITY for an education, he proposed that tuition be raised to the full amount of the cost, thus compelling the wealthy parent to pay in full. In the case of the poor boy, part or, if necessary, all of the tuition to be deferred until such time after his graduation as he found it possible to make payment. Marshall said he wanted no action and there was not time even for discussion, but he hoped the members would find this proposition worthy of consideration.

The tellers then made the following report:

For President, Aubrey Weymouth, '94—582.

For Vice-President, Charles J. O'Neill, '93—582; Bernard T. Converse, '99—582.

For Honorary Alumni Trustee, Charles D. Marshall, '88—582.

Ballot on Change of By-Laws establishing Alumni Council: Yes, 560; No, 22.

Following the report of the tellers, Aubrey Weymouth, '94, the new President, took the chair and made a short address. He called attention to the fact that no such Alumni meeting had been held in the history of the Association. Instead of a mere handful at least five hundred members had been present from the start of the meeting, giving careful attention and participating in everything that went on. He felt that great things lay ahead of the Association and promised to give his best efforts to furthering the interests of Lehigh during the coming year. In conclusion he said: "I bespeak your constant and enthusiastic support of the best Secretary of the best Alumni Association in the country."

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

WALTER R. OKESON,
Executive Secretary.

The Drinker Dinner

THE DOCTOR ANNOUNCES A $500,000 GIFT FOR LEHIGH

Four hundred Lehigh men gathered at the Kurtz Restaurant, in Bethlehem, on the night before Alumni Day to do honor to Dr. Drinker and the Class of '71, whose golden reñnion was celebrated this year. It was a noisy, jubilant crowd, with big delegations from each reunion class, and from 7 o'clock to ten the big undergraduate band fought hard to make itself heard above the racket. College songs and class yells were being tossed from table to table and back and forth across the great banquet hall like a riotous game battledore and shuttlecock. Hot? It sure was hot! But no one minded that. Coats were shed, formality discarded, age forgotten and it took an expert to distinguish between the Classes of '91 and '20 as far as noise or general actions went. The chief noise provoker was "Hop" Walters, '03, and he had able assistance by such sturdy souls as Dave Petty, '09; "Doc" Estes, '05; Caleb Kenney, '10; "Nick" Carter, '17, and a dozen others.

The high light of the evening was the Doctor's speech when he announced that the General Education Board, established by John D. Rockefeller, and the Carnegie Corporation, established by Andrew Carnegie, have each subscribed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars towards the additional endowment fund which is being raised by friends of the University. Lehigh now has a productive endowment fund of more than three million dollars. An additional million is sought and the subscriptions reported by Dr. Drinker are contingent upon raising the remaining five hundred thousand dollars from other sources.

"This additional endowment is needed mainly for the increase of teachers' salaries," Dr. Drinker told the alumni. "This is the purpose for which Mr. Rockefeller in January, 1920, placed fifty million dollars in the hands of the General Educational Board in addition to amounts previously contributed by him for distribution among educational institutions of the country, and it is in accordance with the aim also of the Carnegie Corporation which Mr. Carnegie endowed with the bulk of his fortune for the promotion of education and other purposes. These splendid gifts are a great stimulus and encouragement to the alumni and friends of Lehigh to join in and forward this movement for the benefit of Lehigh University."

THE RED-LIGHT P-RADE

Promptly at ten o'clock the noisy crowds made their way to the street and formed in order of classes behind the University Band, led by Joe Recapito, '24. Dave Petty had provided great gobs of red fire in the shape of torches which were distributed by his able aids along the line of march, so that the p-rade was in flaming illumination from head to tail. The line of march was up Broad Street to New, across the New Street Bridge to the University Campus and then across the campus to the stadium. As we swung into the stadium we were amazed to see, although it was almost eleven o'clock, that the great stands were almost solidly filled with a vast audience of townspeople. So large was this crowd that the two sections reserved for the alumni and students had been encroached upon and hundreds of the late-comers had to stand.

THE CALCULUS CREMATION

And certainly the crowd was rewarded. The field was illuminated by flood-lights and in addition there were spot-lights to pick out the various characters as they came on the field. We have not had a real Calculus Cremation for years but at this one the Class of 1923 outdid the efforts of any of its predecessors, and Park Fraim, '09, who acted as director, is certainly to be congratulated. Some idea of what was coming was given us at the dinner when newsboys sold to the diners copies of "The Crematorium," a four page newspaper printed in red ink and illustrated with numerous drawings. This paper gave in detail the advance story of the "Faculty-Soph" baseball game to be played on Taylor Field, with old man Calculus as Umpire. The caricatures of the Faculty members of the team were cleverly drawn and the reading matter decidedly humorous. The Sophomore Class is surely to be congratulated on the originality and cleverness displayed in getting up this paper.

The various members of the "Faculty" team came on the field from different directions and the audience did not really see them until the spot-light suddenly picked them out of the semi-darkness. Then the striking likeness in make-up or in gait and mannerism immediately brought recognition and a shout of laughter and a round of applause greeted each clever performer. The baseball game was played with a big soft ball in the glare of the flood-lights and was a short and exciting affair. A decision by Calculus favoring his ancient coadjutors, the Faculty, caused a riot and the umpire was seized and haled before a court for trial. This trial was held on a stage set on the field immediately in front of the south stands and was the usual affair with which Lehigh men are all familiar. The songs were especially good this year. One that any graduate of the past twenty-five years will appreciate we give herewith.

THORNY

To the tune "Margie"

By Grant Fitch, '23

Dear little Thorny,
I guess I'm finished with you, Thorny;
I'll tell the world that I'm not blue,
Tho' I've been worried to death,
I've passed my Calculus and everything.
Oh! Thorny,
You've been my trouble-maker.
Made me want to die:—
After all is said and done
And at last the victory's won,
Oh! Thorny,
Thorny, Good-bye!

Of course you all know the verdict, and soon the ill-fated Calculus, condemned for the forty-first time, is marched under heavy guard to the upper field.

There on a great funeral pyre he is placed and soon the flames are shooting thirty feet into the air about his attenuated form. Around the base of the blazing pile, two hundred wild Indians, otherwise yeclpt Sophomores, are giving an imitation of a war-dance that would fill the aborigine originator with envy. Over the field, thronged with thousands of people, the flaring tongues of fire throw an uncertain flickering radiance. The clocks toll the hour of midnight but the sight is so uncanny and the spectacle presented so weirdly beautiful that everyone seems reluctant to leave it. But the flames gradually die down and the curtain falls on the most successful Calculus Cremation ever seen at Lehigh.

THE JUNIOR PROM

Dances have started late before in the history of Lehigh but it is likely this one set a new record. It was almost midnight before it got under way, for everyone wanted to see the Calculus Cremation. However, the late start did not detract from the pleasure, for each joyous participant went on the principle that "tomorrow is a new day that has never been touched" and then proceeded to begin said day right by dancing 'till almost sunrise.

It sure was one big Lehigh night!

Alumni Day, June 11, 1921

Hot? You bet it was hot! Rain? Well, only a little shower about two o'clock. Over in five minutes. A typical Lehigh Alumni Day and, judging from the many comments by the alumni, a particularly joyous one.

The crowd was slow in appearing on the campus in the morning, for Calculus Cremation the night before as well as other pleasures had cut into their sleep badly. The first job for those who arrived in Bethlehem Saturday morning was to register. George Beck, '03, had registered most of the Friday crowd at the banquet the night before, so he had time on Saturday to devote to selling the tickets for the baseball game. R. P. More, '10, who played the genial hotel clerk for quarters in the dormitories, also found his work lighter Saturday than it had been on Friday, so he took a hand in the registering. As Okey was running hither and yon, Miss Sheehan, his secretary, took care of all the chaps who wanted to become Life Members or pay twenty years of back dues or call up wife on the long-distance phone to assure her that he had kept his promise and that tough gang belonging to the Class of — had failed to get him drunk (he always forgot to mention that his capacity and not his moral courage was what saved him).

At ten o'clock the meeting of the Association of Lehigh Clubs was held in the "Brown and White" room, Drown Hall, and at the same hour the class representatives met in the large room upstairs to create an organization. It was expected that in case an Alumni Council was favorably voted on at the Alumni Meeting that it would rest on these two organizations, or, if an Alumni Council was decided against, that these two organizations would function separately with such cooperation as might be found advisable.

The Association of Lehigh Clubs

At this meeting the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved that:

1st.—This association shall be known as "The Association of Lehigh Clubs."

2nd.—Its object shall be to facilitate expression of opinion and action among the Alumni body of The Lehigh University.

3rd.—Membership shall include any recognized Lehigh Alumni Club.

4th.—There shall be an Executive Committee consisting of one or more delegates from each Club. Each Club shall be entitled to one delegate for each 100 club members or fraction thereof. Each delegate must present proper credentials from his Club.

5th.—There shall be an annual meeting of the Executive Committee in June, and there shall be other meetings of the Executive Committee at such times and places as the Chairman may call them.

6th.—The Executive Committee shall at each meeting elect a Chairman and a Secretary and Treasurer. These officers shall assume their duties at the end of the annual meeting at which elected, and shall hold office until the close of the next annual meeting, or until their successors are elected.

7th.—Dues shall be collected from the Clubs in amounts which the Executive Committee may, from time to time, decide.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Chairman: G. L. Robinson, '00.

Secy.-Treas. Jacob Stair, Jr., '12.

Association of Class Representatives

This meeting was largely attended and after some discussion the following outline of organization and purpose was adopted.

The Association is to have a Chairman, two Vice-Chairmen and a Secretary-Treasurer, forming an Executive Committee. Its first and prime function will be to effect a standard class organization to be adopted by all classes, past and future. The present class organizations vary greatly and it will be the effort of this Association to cull the best from the present organizations and adopt by as nearly a unanimous vote as possible a plan which will give uniform results. Failure on the part of any class to obtain good results will not pass unnoticed as is now the case, and class officers will be stirred into greater activity by the necessity of reporting to the other classes what they are doing. It was decided to elect temporary officers to report back to the Association a plan of organization for discussion at a meeting to be called during the fall of 1921. For the present either the class president or class secretary will serve as a delegate to such meetings as are held. The officers elected were: T. M. Eynon, '81, President, and Robert M. Bird, '02, Secretary-Treasurer.

Alumni Meeting

At eleven o'clock the Alumni Annual Meeting was called to order in the auditorium in Drown Hall. This is fully reported elsewhere in this number and while it may be a little tiresome to read all reports given in the minutes of this meeting, it will well repay any member of the Association to do so.

Alumni Luncheon

As usual, the University gave to the returning Alumni, their friends and families, a most delightful luncheon. On account of the great number to be fed it was necessary to make this a buffet affair. As the weather was clear the guests found it delightful to set on the close clipped lawns under the magnificent trees and while eating listen to the strains of the music rendered by the University Band. In fact, they found it so delightful that they were hard to move when it came time to send them to Taylor Field so that the Alumni Parade could form.

Parade of the Reunion Classes

At 2 p.m., the Reunion Classes gathered in front of Packer Hall to form for their parade, which was to be the big feature of the afternoon's entertainment. No members of '71 or '76 appearing the parade was led by John T. Bourke, '81, Political Editor of the Cleveland "Leader." Then came a large delegation from '86, followed by '91, with large yellow rosettes and firemen helmets. Then '96 with great badges the size of a dinner plate suspended from broad neck sashes of brown and white. They were led by the University Band, which they had hired for the day. Then came '01, resplendent in straw hats with bands of the class colors, parasols also of the showy orange and black, neckties of the same colors and spotless (?) white trousers. As "Tim" Burns had charge of the local arrangements, naturally they were led by the Bethlehem Steel Band. None could mistake the next class, for every man carried a '06 banner with numerals almost as large as himself. Then came '11, an idea of whose appearance can be best derived by the pictures of them reproduced in this number. Suffice it to say that their "stunt" was the best ever pulled off by any Lehigh class on Alumni Day. The funeral march, the transformation scene on the field, and the joyous celebration of the "mourners" after the resurrection of the "corpse" was a conception showing real imagination, and the execution showed a combination of initiative and joyous abandon that suggests that the retirement of this Class to the woods just previous to the parade was for more purposes than one. They were led by a clown band which with the funeral cortege was a great feature. 1916 came next, in farmer hats and flaming red bandanna handkerchiefs. Their banner was carried on two big wooden rakes. Then came 1920, who proudly carried the Active Membership Cup, awarded them at the Alumni Meeting. Finally came the grave and reverend Seniors in their caps and gowns, looking on tolerantly at the pranks and capers of the children who preceded them in the parade. On the field the manouvers were all successfully executed under the able management of Chief Marshall "Hop" Walters, '03, assisted by "Doc" Estes, '05. The finale, bringing the classes into company front behind the massed bands, was particularly good. With a hearty will the reñion classes sang "Hail to Lehigh," and the audience all joined in when the first notes of the "Alma Mater" were sounded. Then a mighty Lehigh yell, led by Okey, followed by a rush for seats.

Presentation of Cúps

First came the presentation of the Athletic Cúps and Medals. Each year the Arch Johnston ('89) Cúp is awarded to the most useful man on the football team; the Mrs. Rollin H. Wilbur ('85) Cúp to the most useful athletic in baseball, and the Mrs. Henry S. Drinker ('71) Cúp to the most useful athlete in base-receives a medal and his name is inscribed on the cúp. This year Hyman Goldman, '21, varsity center; "Gus" Savaria, '21, baseball captain, and Charles P. Maurer, '21, lacrosse captain, were the winners. Then on behalf of "Tom" Keady, the retiring head coach, Okey presented Gus Savaria with a gold watch that "Tom" gave to "Gus" as a token of his faithful service in football and baseball for four years. Then came an affecting scene when "Bosey" Reiter, on behalf of the Athletic Committee, presented Keady with a beautiful gold "repeater" as a token of the esteem in which the Athletic Committee held "Tom" as a man and a coach.

Walton Forstall, '91, now came to the front and announced the award of the Reunion Cúp, which was won by the Class of '96, with 43 men present, a percentage of 38.1.

Data in Connection with the Award of the Reunion Cúp, June 11, 1921

Class	Eligible Members	Present	Per cent.	Order of Attendance
1886	37	11	29.7	4
1891	72	21	29.2	5
1896	113	43	38.1	1
1901	74	24	32.4	3
1906	134	35	26.1	7
1911	137	48	35.0	2
1916	157	33	21.0	8
1920	196	53	27.0	6

Yes, there was a baseball game. With Rutgers, I think. Who won? Well, Lehigh was so far ahead in the fifth inning I didn't think there was any chance of Rutgers catching up. Anyway I went home and grabbed a bath before starting out to make the round of the reunion banquets that came off that night and which are described elsewhere.

President's Reception

The reception in Drown Memorial Hall Saturday evening proved to be one of the most largely attended and successful President's receptions ever held at Lehigh University. In the receiving line were Vice-President and Mrs. N. M. Emery, Mrs. Drinker, wife of President-Emeritus H. S. Drinker; Mrs. W. A. Wilbur, Mrs. A. N. Cleaver, Mrs. E. G. Grace, wives of local members of the Board of Trustees; Mrs. W. H. Chandler, whose husband was for 35 years Professor of Chemistry at Lehigh, and Mrs. H. R. Reiter, President of the Lehigh University Women's Club.

Baccalaureate Sermon

The finale for most of the Alumni was the President's Reception or their class banquet on Saturday night, but a number attended the Baccalaureate services in Packer Memorial Chapel on Sunday morning and heard Rt. Rev. Frank Du Moulin, Bishop Coadjutor of Ohio, deliver a splendid sermon. The choir of the Pro-Cathedral Church of the Nativity under T. Edgar Shields, in addition to the hymns, gave beautiful renditions of Stanford's Te Deum in B Flat, and Gounod's "Unfold, Ye Portals Everlasting."

THE CLASS REUNIONS

June 10 and 11, 1921

We are inaugurating this year the practice of having each class write its own account of its reunion. It will be a far more interesting and intimate account (to say nothing of greater accuracy) than was the case in the past when the Alumni Secretary doped out as best he could a record of the doings of each class.

Classes of '71, '76 and '81

However, in the case of '71, '76 and '81, we have no such account as there were really no set reunion doings by these classes, owing to the fact that they number but a few widely scattered members.

Dr. Drinker, of course, represented '71, and the Alumni Dinner on June 10 was really the reunion dinner for '71. Of '76 there were several members present, notably, Levan Dannenhaner, who travelled all the way from Cripple Creek, Colo., to attend his 45th Reunion, William Griffith and W. L. Raeder. '81 had at least two members present in J. T. Bourke and T. M. Eynon, and had the distinction of heading the reunion class parade, as neither '71 nor '76 were game enough to contest this place of honor.

35th Reunion of '86

The Class of '86 had a very successful Reunion this year. They had a good attendance at the Alumni Dinner and also at the '86 Dinner on Saturday night.

George H. Cobb, who was the Secretary for the past year, asked to be relieved of his duties, because he lives in Santa Barbara, California.

"Hal" Toulmin was elected Secretary for the ensuing year.

In spite of the long distance between Santa Barbara and Bethlehem, Cobb turned up at the '86 Reunion, as usual.

A Committee, consisting of Mr. Horace A. Luckenbach and Dr. Harry Toulmin, is expected to provide trout for the next '86 Reunion, or possibly, if the weather is favorable, Horace may plan to take all of the '86 men that return, on a fishing expedition and show them the deep holes in the Monocacy, where the trout are in hiding.

Among those who attended the reunion were the following: Albrecht, Cobb, Frauenthal, Grossart, Hawi, Luckenbach, H. A., Reist, Richards, Toulmin, H., and Veeder.

H. G. REIST.

'91's Thirtieth Reunion

Well, we did not win our own Reunion Cup. It certainly was aggravating to see '96 win the Cup a second time, this class being the first possessor five years ago. In fact, '96 thinks that every time they decide to have a reunion, the Cup follows as a matter of course. Except for the above, there is nothing but the very best kind of good news to tell of the Thirtieth Reunion.

The Reunion really began at the Alumni Banquet on Friday evening. Here at two small tables, eighteen of the '91 men were gathered, and did as much reuniting and exchanging of recollections as was possible during the course of a very lively and noisy Alumni Banquet.

As each man came into the Banquet Hall, he was presented by Forstall with a badge, about the size of a small soup-plate, hanging by a brown and white ribbon from a frame enclosing a card on which the man's name was legibly printed. For most of us the name was not necessary as we have been back to so many reunions, but it helped in Auchinvole's, VanderHorst's and Rafferty's cases at least for some of us.

After the Alumni Banquet, the Class lead the procession to Taylor Field and witnessed a most amusing Cremation. Then everybody went to their respective beds, some of these being in the dormitories, and did not see each other again until the Alumni meeting in Drown Hall on Saturday morning. After the meeting, small groups of '91 men ate their stand-up luncheon together on the campus between Drown Hall and the Commons. They were fairly conspicuous because of the aforesaid soup-plates, and each one became absolutely a distinctive feature on the landscape as fast as he was supplied by Forstall with a white placard on which "'91" stood out in bold figures; this placard when folded and tied around the hat, made the latter look a good deal like an old-fashioned volunteer fireman's helmet. A "neat but not gaudy" (?) addition to the hat was supplied by an orange (?) (some said yellow) rose which stood up boldly about four inches above the white placard. These decorations were credited to Patterson, but it is quite possible that Mrs.

P. had more to do with it than her husband. When 21 men, so decorated, had assembled together in front of Packer Hall prior to the formation of the Alumni P-rade, they formed a spectacle very much in evidence and long to be remembered. The Class was well in front of the P-rade, being preceded by only a few members of '81 and '86.

The P-rade involved many evolutions on Taylor Field, in the course of which John Barlycorn, brought in as a corpse by the Class of 1911, was revived and stood upright on his bier. At the close of these stunts, the Class once more received public attention when Forstall, as Chairman of the Award Committee, handed over the Reunion Cup to the Class of '96.

At half-past seven, the time set for the banquet, 17 men were "Waiting at the Church" for Morris, who with some other laggards, did not appear until about 7:40. Their lateness, however, was quite satisfactorily explained by the fact that a very hard rainstorm struck Bethlehem at 7:30 and made everybody seek refuge for a short time.

On the wall at one end of the dining-room was an orange banner with black 8-inch high figures "1891-1921." This banner was a contribution of Paul Stout for the 20th Reunion, and at each subsequent reunion Mrs. Morris makes appropriate changes to the later figures. Also, another relic of the 20th Reunion, to which we were indebted to Loos, was a large orange banner stretched over the sidewalk in front of the restaurant bearing in black letters "1891 Headquarters."

Soon after the eating began, menu cards were circulated for signatures, and the 22 names (including his own) with which each card came back to the owner are really very creditable recommendations for the teachers who taught the "Riting" member of the three "R's" to '91, in their precollege days. They are: Auchinvole, Camp, Eavenson, Forstall, Heindle, Hersh, Hillman, Honeyman, Kemmerling, Lauderburn, Lefevre, Loos, Meily, Miller, Morris, Patterson, Rafferty, Quier, Shellenberger, VanderHorst, Webb and Whitney.

In beginning the talks of the evening, Morris, as President, said that he would entertain no nominations to supersede Forstall; but would accept nominations for new incumbents for the other offices. He was promptly and deservedly howled down, and the present class officers were continued. In addition, following Okeson's recommendation, Forstall, as Class Secretary, was made the representative on the newly organized University Alumni Council, with Morris, Class President, as alternate.

Forstall read messages to the Class expressing what shone forth as sincere regrets from the following absent ones: Atkins, Beck, Boatrite, Bucher, Cox, Ermentrout, Hayes, Knapp, Paine, Usina, Zahniser and Winfree.

The Class honored, by standing, the memory of Henry Clark and Eric Doolittle, whose deaths had occurred since the last Reunion; and Eavenson, Forstall, Morris, Loos and others gave us some important and interesting facts about the splendid achievements of some distinguished classmates who were absent, though living.

The feature of the banquet, and indeed of the whole Reunion, and an event which will never fade from the minds of the hearers, was the talks from each one around the table as he was called on in turn (Paine, the selected Toastmaster having been unavoidably absent) by Morris to talk especially about himself, his family, his aspirations and opinions. Lauderburn began, and as befitting the "cloth," set a very high and yet practical note of idealism. VanderHorst, our Senior President, was asked to reply to the welcome extended him upon the occasion of his first return since graduation. Hillman gave one of his written talks indicating his intimacy with the personality of many of us. Lefevre, our most widely known member, repeated his achievement of five years ago, holding us all with intense interest. Each of these speakers as well as those following took Lauderburn's "Idealism" as his keynote. Everybody was interesting and everybody was interested, and so there was great surprise when the last one finished to find it was after midnight. Each man present felt that he knew every other classmate better and more favorably than ever before; and reluctance to separate was shown by the continuance for many minutes of groups outside on the sidewalk in the early morning hours.

As a closing feature, lead by Teddy Hillman, the Class sang two verses of the Alma Mater as they stood around the table with hands clasped. This was followed by Auld Lang Syne, to the last lines of which the handclasp broke with preliminary tightenings as if each man was doing all he could to transmit to his neighbor, and through him to the rest of the group, the strong sense of affection he felt for all and the regret with which he said Good-bye. However, from the sentiments expressed in the talks it seems probable that the Class will not be satisfied to wait another five years for the next gathering; more and more members coming to the conclusion which some six or eight of us acted upon for many years past, viz: that we must be at Lehigh every year on Alumni Day.

H. T. MORRIS.

WALTON FORSTALL, President.
Secretary.

Silver Jubilee of Class of '96

Close to fifty members of the "Great Class of '96," Lehigh University, gathered here on June 10 and 11 and 12, to celebrate their 25th year reunion.

Friday evening they to the number of 35 attended the Alumni Dinner in honor of Dr. Drinker, at the Kurtz Restaurant, and on Saturday evening nearly fifty were at the class reunion and banquet at the Bethlehem Club.

The boys of 25 years ago held up their end in classy style and showed no signs of advancing years. Headed by the Lehigh Student Band of 50 pieces, they paraded from the Bethlehem Club on Saturday morning to the University and participated in the exercises of the day. They presented a fine appearance as they marched down to the baseball game, in line with the other reunion classes, exceeding all others in the percentage of men who had come back. For this, they were awarded for the second time the massive silver trophy cup, which the Class of '91 gives each June to the class having the highest percentage of men in attendance at the Alumni reunion.

Robert E. Laramy, Superintendent of the Easton Public Schools and President of the Class for 26 years, presided at the Reunion Dinner held in the Bethlehem Club on Saturday evening.

It would be impossible and probably inadvisable to give an accurate account of all that happened at the dinner which began at 7:30 and lasted well along into the early hours of the next day. Many reminiscences were related and much "inside stuff" spilled. "Tommy" Gannon's delightful description of a tour round the world was greatly enjoyed, as were fervid remarks by Jack McBride and others. "Rambling Rose" Thorn was on his feet and ran true to form. Every man present had a few, or many, words to say—and all were given a chance. Walter Okeson, one of the members of the Class, talked long and well on University matters, particularly on the subject of athletics. Morris Pool, the poet laureate, obliged with his usual beautiful offering. It should be explained that "Babe" Bartles was prevented from returning to the Reunion by the serious illness of his mother.

The boy I can't get off my chest,
Somehow, today is out in the West,
Out in "God's Country," they call it there.

Where it's all out-doors, and the sunsets flare,
And the big winds blow, and the mountains rise

And lift you with them to the skies.

But despite the largesse that nature spills,

There's something missing—one of the ills

That brings a man down hard to earth
And makes him reckon up the worth .
Of what we get from the curious thing
That we lump as "life," and take our fling.

And the thing that's missing, that makes life flat

And spoils the savor of this and that,
Is just a pal, a college mate,

To talk the clock round, rail at fate,
Set the world right, praise thine and mine.

And Severin Ringer and old Joe Klein.

And the boy that lacks that priceless zest,
Tonight, is Bartles, somewhere West—Bartles, whose heart had hoarded this date

And now is held back by a twist of fate—
Bartles, who recked by the astrolabe
Is in middle life, but to us, just Babe.

I never knew Bartles over well,
He stayed in his, and I in my shell.
But I know how he feels, and he won't be vexed

That I should use him as a text—
A sort of excuse to preach a bit
At you, as you helplessly round me sit.

My paper is shy—and the sermon's this:
When you reckon riches, to reminisce
With men who were boys when you were a boy

Is not the least life holds of joy;
The saying is trite, that you "Youth renew."

But spite of its triteness, mighty true.

For somehow you shake off the gathered years.

And somehow the laugh is close to tears:
You see in a vision the boys that were,

And they see you, and the heart's astir
With the thoughts and feelings of days far gone
When "life" was a word, and the years were long.

And had I the power—thank God I've not,
To right the world, and its scheme to plot,
I'd have a Re-union every week,
With marching cut out, but with all to speak,
And after the Twenty-fifth, start back
Till we get to One on the return track.

Among the '96 men on hand were: W. S. Ayars, Wilmington, Delaware; H. B. Ayers, Pittsburgh; A. D. Ayres, New York City; H. W. Baldwin, Buffalo, N. Y.; F. H. Baldwin, Bethlehem; S. Baldwin, Augusta, Ga.; H. H. Beck, Lancaster; E. T. Belden, Englewood, N. J.; M. Bernstein, Philadelphia; W. J. Bieber, Bethlehem; D. W. Bliem, Philadelphia; B. F. Bossert, Phoenixville; H. F. Boyer, New York City; S. P. Curtis, Philadelphia; F. A. Daboll, Philadelphia; S. M. Dessauer, Montrose; E. B. Douglas, Bethlehem; F. O. Dufour, Boston, Mass.; J. R. Enscoe, New York City; C. V. Ferriday, Wilmington, Del.; C. B. Flory, New York City; T. J. Gannon, New York City; David Hall, Pittsburgh; H. N. Herr, Hershey; W. S. Jackson, Philadelphia; W. V. Kline, Lockport, N. Y.; R. E. Kresge, Butler; R. E. Laramy, Easton; J. G. Lehman, Bethlehem; Telford Lewis, Johnstown; George Dornin, Baltimore, Md.; J. B. McBride, Easton; J. H. Myers, Harrisburg; F. Oberly, Easton; J. G. Petrikin, New York City; M. W. Pool, New York City; J. H. Siegel, New York City; J. I. Siegfried, Bethlehem; J. T. Simpson, Newark, N. J.; H. W. Sprague, Bethlehem; C. W. Thorn, Philadelphia.

Twentieth Reunion of '01

In preparation for the 20-year Reunion of the Class of 1901, President H. D. Wilson, of this Class, left early in May for a trip to Mexico and Southern California. The connection between these two localities, his visit there and the 20-year Reunion of the Class of 1901 are not just exactly apparent on the face of it, but no doubt subsequent events will show and perhaps have shown that his being in Mexico during the five weeks preceding the Reunion contributed in no small degree to the success of this get-together and no doubt was carefully planned by our President.

Before going west, however, he did notify his old side-partner Cadwallader Evans, Jr., that in case he failed to make all the necessary arrangements while in the West, he (Evans) could adjust those few details which might have been overlooked, while he (Wilson) was fishing in the California waters. Cad. summoned to his aid Sam Harleman and Tim Burns as a sort of working committee, which really rounded out the plans for our get-together.

The following 1901 members came back and attended the Drinker Dinner and the Class Dinner, this latter being held at Spring Valley Inn, where Landlord Kemmerer and his wife provided a good, substantial and copious chicken and waffle dinner: John H. Flory, John Symington, T. Burns, Chas.ENZIAN, C. W. Startzman, S. T. Harleman, A. R. Laubenstein, Wm. A. Ehlers, E. T. Murphy, H. S. Stauffer, L. G. Krause, F. B. Gearhart, H. D. Wilson, W. H. Blockside, Cad. Evans, Jr., L. D. Menough, S. F. Laubach, P. L. Grubb, Yen Te Ching, John J. Nolan, R. C. Morris, Jr.

There were a number of honorary members elected to the Class of 1901 that evening, and an interesting debate was put on between Yen Te Ching, of China, and Jack Symington, of Maryland. As a result of these two addresses it is quite evident that the bonds of friendship which exists between the United States and China, no matter how frail they ever were, are now strong and enduring. Yen gave a very interesting description, which was enjoyed by all the reunionists, in connection with his work on the railways of China, especially in connection with the great need for more mileage and funds to carry on the work.

'01 claims the distinction of having the man who traveled the longest distance to return to this reunion, namely, Yen Te Ching, who came all the way from Wuchang, China.

Class pictures were taken at the alumni luncheon of the twenty-one men who returned, after which, headed by our band of 108 pieces, the Class paraded to the baseball game, carrying special colored umbrellas and wearing special hats and neckties.

The percentage turnout of this Class, when referring to those graduated, was undoubtedly larger than any Class having a reunion this year, but, owing to the fact that the prize percentage is based upon the ratio of those who returned to those who entered with the Class, we were not recipients of the cup.

T. BURNS.

Fifteenth Reunion of '06

The Class of 1906 held their fifteenth reunion in good and proper style, as is customary. Those present were: C. W. Barwis, W. C. Benedict, A. L. Broomall, H. M. Burkey, D. Brillhart, S. J. Cort, D. K. Dean, H. C. Dent, C. Dorrance, T. G. Fear, L. Gossling, W. H. Grady, E. T. Gott, J. H. C. Gregg, W. H. Hendricks, E. E. Johnston, T. H. Lueders, J. F. Lesig, H. H. Lauer, C. J. Langdon, D. H. Manrer, P. D. March, R. M. Merriman, C. P. McNiff, F. R. Pyne, R. B. Rench, B. T. Root, W. C. Smith, N. G. Smith, J. G. Smull, J. W. Stair, G. M. Smartt, S. Strauss, E. M. Taussig, J. R. Wait and F. G. Wrightson. Should the memory of the scribe be at fault and some valued name omitted he herewith makes his apology.

After the Alumni meeting and luncheon, the Class paraded to the Athletic Field headed by the Class baby, C. W. Barwis, Jr., and each man wearing his decorations and carrying a standard with the numerals 1906.

In the evening the Class assembled at the Sun Inn, that spot of hallowed memory, and partook of the good cheer that had been provided.

During the festivities, Okey blew in and gave us one of his straight from the shoulder talks, which was enthusiastically received, and the Class pledged him their support in the work he has undertaken.

Peace and quiet having at last been restored, the bunch got down to serious business and discussed and adopted some suggested improvements in the class organization. It was decided to district the country and appoint a certain man in each district to look after all '06 men in that district, so that class and college matters can be more readily brought before each member and response obtained from them all. Also in this way a closer contact between Class members and a better knowledge of what they are doing, can be obtained. Messages of sympathy were sent to those who through illness were unable to be present, and a toast was drunk to the memory of those who had "gone before."

Each man then gave a brief review of his history and accomplishments, after which the jollification started anew and continued to the sma' wee hours.

Those who were there had a corking good time, while those absent missed something.

FRANCIS R. PYNE.

The Big 10-year Reunion of 1911

Well! did we raise the devil? We believe so!!!. In order that posterity, and any of the Class that lived more than one thousand miles away (the rest of 1911 are evidently dead) should know how it was done, we record it here.

The Reunion "Pee-Rade" started from Taylor Hall in a very solemn manner. A funeral procession, headed by a Clown Band playing "Nearer, My . . .", followed by a mule drawn hearse, in which reposed a nine foot bottle, then the Class, dressed in black dominos and hoods, with clasped hands, marched quietly. The day of the noisy reunion had evidently gone with the advent of prohibition. Even Bishop Talhot, whom we passed on the west side of Drown Hall, raised his eyes, and silently acknowledged our plight.

When the baseball field was reached the band changed the tune to "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." All the black was shed, the nine foot bottle rose from the hearse and the Class appeared in a white riot, shouting and snake dancing.

As the Class Pee-Rade was a success, the Class Banquet was a double success. We can spare no thanks to the Committee for the wonderful menu provided. Everything was complete.

Reunion "Spirits" (non-Volstead):

Dillon, our very active Class Chairman, did not have a word to utter at the Class Banquet. He couldn't. Lost his voice at reunion headquarters at the "Home Coming Party" the night before.

Galbraith was as noisy as ever. We'll match "Gal" with any other man when it comes to memorizing songs. In combination with Solomon, they were a complete success.

The Class has at least one brave man. Messinger has taken ten years to make the leap. He announced his decision to get married. Good luck and best wishes.

Throm was as noisy as ever. Al Hohl furnished free taxi service to Throm from Union Station to Taylor Hall. Some young millionaire, Al!

Is Keefe some mixer? "I'll say so." Agreed, all. Don, kept us in good spirits at all times.

John Dillon, you are a real asset to any class, and we're glad it is 1911.

The only thing that was a disappointment was the absence of Okey from our Banquet. Probably he could not leave '96.

"'96" are good sports. Even if they did beat us to the cup, they let us share the contents. The water in it was a life saver to our parched throats at that ball game.

Poffenberger is as big as ever, but like "Fatty" Arbuckle, he still bubbles over with good nature.

And Sousnowski, "Say, Souse, if you don't diet, you'll soon have the build of a Chief Justice."

Peterman has developed into a real man.

Dawson and Smith, our "two milers," are still running, but a different kind of race. . . . . Families.

The boys took hook, line and sinker and are caught forever. No one will miss a 1911 reñnion hereafter.

Fairhurst was elected Chairman of the fifteen-year reñnion.

W. E. FAIRHURST.

5th Year Reunion of 1916

Festivities started Saturday morning, June 11, when we established our headquarters in the Northwest room of Drown Hall, where each man got his badge.

The necessary signs guided all of our members to this place and it was here that the morning was spent, renewing old acquaintances and swapping tales.

But when the bell rang, we all scattered and went to the Commons, where we filled up with food and hot coffee, to warm us up (the thermometer being only 93° F.).

After the luncheon we all returned to Drown Hall where each one of us received those articles which made 1916 conspicuous, namely, a good big farmer's straw hat and a red bandana handkerchief. With existing hot weather and bright sun, our "uniforms" proved useful as well as ornamental. It was thus that our parade went down to the field with a banner carried between two rakes which told everybody who we were.

After the baseball game there was the dinner at Hotel Wyandotte, where 25 of us met and discussed plans for our next (10-year) reñnion in 1926.

President Wynn appointed Wm. C. Hartmann as Secretary-Treasurer to be in charge of reñnion, with authority to select his own committee. After some discussion it was voted to make dues $2.00 per year, payable between June and April, for next five years, in order to get a working capital to stage a 10-year reñnion to beat anything yet attempted.

The reñnion committee will be so appointed that each man is located in a different territory and he will make an effort to see, or get in touch with each man in his territory.

All members of the Class are urged not to wait for a special invitation but to send their dues, right away kwick, to Wm. C. Hartmann, at 425 Avenue B, Bethlehem, Pa., so we can get started and keep our records straight.

Although we had a good turnout for this reñnion, we must have many more present at our 10-year reñnion or we will have no chance to win the cup.

Among those present, who registered at our headquarters, on June 11, were: Kresge, Keiser, Mardaga, Reitz, W. Perry, Snyder, Baush, Lambert, Hartman, Bergstresser, Rodgers, Sngden, Stem, Smith, Sutro, Wynne, Thorpe, Schmoll, Paules, Hiss, Clark, Burke, Rust, Clement, Carlson, Fair, Webb, Hess, Mayers, Volkhart, Knox, Johnson, Sawtelle.

WILLIAM C. HARTMAN.

1920's First Reunion

Friday afternoon those 1920 men began to pile into town and by 8 P.M. there were about thirty on deck at the Alumni Banquet. It took four tables to hold the crowd and even that did not "hold 'em" for long.

A torchlight parade, Calculus cremation, and Senior Hop, in order named, filled up the remainder of the night and must have left most of the 1920 gang "hors de combat," for only a handful were at the Alumni Meeting the following morning.

Okey will no doubt give a complete account of that meeting elsewhere but the big thing was the presentation to 1920 of the Active Membership Cup. Winning it on the first attempt establishes a record which cannot be beaten.

The Alumni Parade to Taylor Field, which came soon after King George's lunch at the Commons, found about thirty-five 1920 men in line. The Class made up in pep what they lacked in costumes and lead by the newly won Cup in the hands of Estes and Forstall, did a snake dance across the field.

Saturday night the Class held its banquet at the Sun Inn. Howard Bunn had made the arrangements and counting on the number who had answered reply post cards, a generous table was spread. Unfortunately the old habit of Saturday night dates was too strong and only one-half the expected crowd of forty were on hand. Davidson and Brown were the shining lights of the evening and supplied enough laughs to make up for all the empty places. A genial lunatic who insisted at the top of his lungs that he could scale the five story wall of the Bethlehem Trust Co., nearly broke up the Class party. Rain came just in time to cause him to change his mind and the banquet was resumed. Okey came in to say a few words just as the gang was breaking up.

"Merce" Tate's law examinations made him miss the time of his life, while Honeyman's wife kept him away.

Those who were on hand: Brookes, Brown, Baderschneider, Booth, Bunn, Buss, Barthol, Carr, Croce, DuBois, Davidson, Diener, Danzer, Dorsam, Estes, Forstall, Flory, Goodell, Gonzalez, Greenstein, Glaser, Heimbach, Harwi, Jenness, Knerr, R. S., Knerr, W. J., Lewis, Mers-felder, Newell, Nevius, Ott, Obert, Paret, Raiguel, Reinhardt, Siegfried, Schultz, Spaulding, Shafer, Spillman, Schlasman, Sommers, Smoyer, Subkow, Terry, Thompson, Wick, Wolfe, and others I've forgotten, as the official number on hand by two P.M., Saturday, in competition for the '91 Reunion Cup, was 52. It was a big attendance but '96 had the superiority of a smaller class and so "copped" the cup with ease.

"Cocky" Forstall was much in evidence and did most of the work in keeping the Class together in Bethlehem.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES, JUNE 14, 1921

The fifty-third Commencement of Lehigh University celebrated the graduation of a class of 109, and the conferring of nine Masters' Degrees. As usual, there are a few whose work being incomplete will not receive their diplomas until this autumn and these men will swell the roll of graduates of the Class of 1921 to about 120.

The Alumnus Orator was Walter Savage Landis, Met.E., '02; M.S., '06, a former Instructor, Assistant Professor and finally Associate Professor in Metallurgy, and who is now Chief Technologist of the American Cyanimid Company,* and one of the foremost chemical engineers of the country. Landis is President of the Electro-Chemical Society and widely known both in this country and in Europe as an engineer and scientist. During the war he did notable work in developing the processes for the Air-Nitrate Plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

His address will be published in a later number.

Following the address by Landis came the announcement of changes and promotions in the teaching staff by Vice-President Emery, and the awarding of prizes and honors by Prof. Thornburg, the Secretary of the Faculty. The conferring of degrees and the presentation of diplomas came last on the program. The degrees to post-graduate students and to members of the Class of 1921 were as follows:

MASTER OF ARTS—Charles Joseph Brockman, B.A. (Lehigh University).

MASTER OF SCIENCE—Jacob Lynford Beaver, E.E. (Lehigh University), James Michael Burke, B.S. (Lehigh University), Chee Kiu Ho, B.E.M. (University of Illinois), Heihachi Kamura, Met.E. (Meiji College of Technology, Japan), Robert Earl Martin, A.B. (University of Indiana), Samuel Raymond Schealer, E.E. (Lehigh University), Judson Gray Smull, B.S. (in Chem.) (Lehigh University), Philip Subkow, Ch.E. (Lehigh University).

BACHELOR OF ARTS—Allen Jennings Barthold, Adam Brucher, Jr., Gerald Hunt Clark, Lloyd Wellington Fisher, Frank Allen Hall, Luther Henry Kline, Albert Bristol Maglones, Willis Jones Parker, Michael Cornelius Schrader, Peter Francis Weiss, Bradford Willard.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE—Henry Gaines Boynton, Eugene Willard Burgess, George Lawton Childs, Raymond Austin Childs, Alfred Edmund Forstall, Jr., James Heathcott Goodwin, Ralph Hartzell, Arthur Smith Herrington, Richard Victor Huebner, B.S. (Pennsylvania Military College), Davis Goodwin Maraspin, Frederick Wagner Rheinfrank.

CIVIL ENGINEER—Harry Chantler Bailey, Carl Richard Berner, Lathrop Bevan, Edmund Warren Bowden, LeRoy Fisher Christman, Louis Julius Dembo, Harry Buttorff Dyer, Benjamin Ettelman, Peter Anthony Feringa, Abraham Fleischer, Samuel Louis Flom, Walter Joseph Judson, Harry Gustave Larson, Frank William Miller, John Anthony Norkiewicz, John Walter Pumphrey, Charles Henry Wright, Chin-Sung Yu.

MECHANICAL ENGINEER—Smie S. K. Chou, Edward Adolph Coppersmith, Milton Max Esteron, Warren Ezra Frankenfeld, William Starling Garrett, Edwin Hutchins Jenness, Ellis Henry Kleckner, Albert Jacob Miller, Warren Thomas Morgan, Frederick Arthur Oehm, Sereen Burnell Overton, Harold Reinhardt Pursel, William Heysham Sayre, Jr., Henry Hershey Steacy, Ross Raymond Thomas, Henry Ovington Wright.

METALLURGICAL ENGINEER—William Redmond Bingham, Robert Charles Good, Paul Carrall Power, John Grant Powles.

ELECTROMETALLURGIST—John Herbert Alden, William Joseph Arner, Louis Neuweiler Butz, Harold Robertson Davenport, Eugene Cissell Gott, Jr., Elliott Hudson Hollenback, Ralph Roth Wentz.

ENGINEER OF MINES—Frank Patrick Flanagan, Paul Melville Frank, James Kistler Mosser Huebner, Tomas Rafael Leighton, C.E. (University of Chile), Walter Stokley March, Jr., James Willard Morgan, Thomas Francis Mullady, Walter Frey Myers, Jr., Bryant King Rogers, Carl Henry Schofer, William Alexander Sunderland.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEER—David Ezra Haver, Thomas Clinton Henneberger, Samuel Ostrolenk, George Joseph Roche, Gaspard Maurice Savaria, John Malcolm Skillman, Henry Theodore Slabasky, Edward Lay Tinker, William Kruse Wiegner.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE (in Chemistry)—Malcolm Kee Buckley, John Henry Widmayer.

COLLEGE AND ALUMNI NEWS

FRANK GLICK

Our New Football Coach, and What He has to Work with

"What are the prospects?" "Tell us about the team?" "Are we going to beat Lafayette?" These and dozens of other similar questions are flung at me daily. Of course not being a prophet or the son of a prophet I find it hard to answer these questions satisfactorily. But one man's guess is as good as another's, so here goes.

In the first place our coaching staff. Well, we've gone the limit on it. With our old material largely graduated or "quitted" and with new material uncertain we determined to at least furnish the best instruction to the candidates that could be found. With Frank Glick, Princeton, '16, as Head Coach, Vincent J. ("Pat") Pazetti, Lehigh '15, Assistant Coach, Jack ("Red") Lamberton, Princeton, '16, to coach ends and tackles, Parisette, the great Princeton guard of a few seasons back, to help out with the line, and Jimmy Murphy, Brown University star, to handle the scouting and the scrub, "Dr." Bill Lynn to look after the conditioning and injuries, we are sure we have a staff that is not exceeded in ability even by the largest universities. Anyone on our squad who is able to learn football is surely going to get a chance to absorb all there is to know.

We called together, on September 7, all the old men and a number of the new ones who seemed to have promise, and work started that afternoon, hard, careful drill, that has grown in intensity every day since. I'll acknowledge there are no particular stars on that squad of fifty men that has shown up for preliminary practice. But you men never saw more earnest workers in your life. At least once and sometimes twice a day they are out there being drilled, drilled, drilled in the rudiments of football by teachers who combine patience with knowledge and whose motto is "Teach the man thoroughly and then call on him to deliver."

Of the old men there are McCarthy (Captain), guard; Cusick and Springsteen, tackles; Frain and Larkin, ends; Rote, quarterback; Harper, Lingle and Douglas, halfbacks. But Springsteen, Larkin and Douglas are as yet only possibilities, so the nucleus from last year's Varsity is mighty small. But Roth, center, and Bessemer, halfback, who were ineligible last year can now be used. Cousens, a 190-pound back, who played two years ago, has returned to College, and there are some mighty good second string men from last year's team. Remember, a year's seasoning makes a lot of difference. Stanier, Swinton, Lees, Garmon, Rhoad and Hoffman are all good material for center and guards; Carlisle, Morehouse and Brumbaugh, for tackles; Sandford and A. Springsteen, for ends; Buckley and Coleman, for quarter; Rogers, Morgan, White and Lyons, for halfbacks. Then among the new men are Ogden, from N. Y. Military Academy, center; a 200-pound guard, whose name I forget, from DeWitt Clinton High School; Hendershot, of Blair Academy; Jones, of Mt. Carmel High, and Arnold, of Harrisburg Tech., tackles; Vail, Walker, Boehm, Thropp and a half dozen others, ends; Adams, Greer, Hencham, Singley, Erickson, Mellinger, Fullard, Groner, and five or six more, for backs. And College don't open for another week! I wouldn't have paper enough to name all the squad ten days from now.

But it's green as grass, this material of ours. How can any human being weld it into a team by October, capable of meeting Rutgers, Penn State, W. & J. and West Va., on four successive Saturdays? It seems impossible. But let me tell you what I think. I'll take a chance and make a prediction. We may not have a team by October, but barring hard luck, we'll have a real one by November and when Lafayette comes up the river the work will all be finished, the rough corners rounded off and a fighting Lehigh team will be straining at the leash, ready to greet them—and beat them!

Schedule

- Oct. 1—Susquehanna.
- Oct. 8—*Rutgers.
- Oct. 15—*Penn State.

- Oct. 22—Washington and Jefferson.
- Oct. 29—West Virginia University.
- Nov. 5—Muhlenberg.
- Nov. 12—Lebanon Valley.
- Nov. 19—Lafayette.

* Game away from home.

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY, INTERCOLLEGIATE LACROSS CHAMPIONS

Sounds pretty good. What? First time in many moons that the champion of the Northern Division of the Intercollegiate Lacross League met the champion of the Southern Division and a real national title was competed for. Just as was the case in 1920, Syracuse won the Northern Championship and Lehigh took the honors in the Southern Division. Then on June 7, in the grounds of the Crescent Athletic Club, in Brooklyn, the two champions battled it to a finish. Victory perched on Lehigh's banner by the score of 3 to 1. And so one of the most disastrous years, athletically, that Lehigh has experienced in a decade came to a glorious finish. To Captain Maurer, Coach O'Neill and Asst. Coach Charley Lattig, '03, and to every man on the championship team we doff our hats. All hail, the Champions!

Many of the Sunday papers carried pictures of the action in that final game and one in particular, in the Washington "Sunday Star," was especially good in giving an idea of the stirring scenes in this great game.

THOMAS KEADY RESIGNS

Lehigh Loses Her Football and Baseball Coach

It was with great regret that the Athletic Committee accepted "Tom" Keady's resignation last June. No Lehigh coach has ever had the success that was achieved through Keady's effort. In nine games he has beaten Lafayette six times in football and the proportion in baseball is equally good. In fact Keady time and time again created a baseball team here at Lehigh of the highest quality out of mediocre material. We hope to get him back next spring for baseball.

Keady goes to University of Vermont as head coach of football. Our best wishes go with him. His work at Lehigh will never be forgotten.

Correction, Chapter V, "Lehigh University"

C. G. Lord, '03, writes to make a correction in Chapter Five in the history of the University, written by Mrs. Catherine Drinker Bowen. He says that the reorganization of the Lehigh Y. M. C. A. took place in 1901 and not in 1903 as stated in the article. He gives the further information that W. D. McRae was the first employed officer, he coming here in 1901 on a half-time basis.

LEHIGH LOSES HER REGISTRAR

Raymond Walters, '07, Dean of Swarthmore College

Every Lehigh man who knows him (and their name is legion) will hear with mingled feelings of regret and pride the announcement that "Ray" Walters is leaving us to go to Swarthmore as Dean of the College. Our loss will be their gain, and the knowledge that his great capabilities and rare, lovable personality will be employed in a higher field is all that reconciles us to the loss. The following is from the "Philadelphia Record" of July 22, 1921:

It was announced at Swarthmore College today that the Board of Managers had appointed Raymond Walters, Registrar and Assistant Professor of English at Lehigh University, as Dean of the College, to succeed William A. Alexander, who resigned to go to Indiana University. Following graduation from Lehigh in 1907, Dean Walters was in newspaper work for four years and thereafter served at his alma mater. During the war he was a captain in the army and registrar of the field artillery officers' training school at Camp Taylor, Kentucky, which had an enrollment of 14,000 candidate officers. The system of registration he developed was adopted for all field artillery schools in this country.

Dean Walters is the author of two books and of 60 magazine articles on educational and musical subjects. As Secretary of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars he made a study of the collegiate grades of eminent engineers which attracted wide attention. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the famous Bach Choir, of Bethlehem, and managed for Charles M. Schwab the four concerts of the Choir in New York as guests of the steel master.

LEHIGH MAN NAMED TO CHAIR AT LAFAYETTE

Frank O. Dufour, '96, Appointed to
C. E. Professorship with $100,000
Endowment

President John H. MacCracken, of Lafayette College, has announced that the new Professorship of Civil Engineering, endowed with a hundred thousand dollars, in memory of the late Simon Cameron Long, General Manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and a Trustee of Lafayette, has been filled by the appointment of Frank Oliver Dufour, C.E., of Boston, Mass.

Dufour was born in Washington, D. C., January 1, 1873. He was graduated from Lehigh in 1896 and married Sarah Breisch, of Bethlehem, September 2, 1901. He was Assistant Engineer of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, 1896-98, Instructor in Civil Engineering at Lehigh, 1898-02; Professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Cincinnati, 1902-04; Acting Professor of Bridge Engineering, University of Wisconsin, 1904-05; Assistant Professor Structural Engineering, University of Illinois, 1905-13; Senior Structural Engineer, Central District, Division of Valuation, Interstate Commerce Commission, Chicago, 1914-15; Structural Engineer with Stone & Webster, Boston, 1915-18, and since 1918, Chief Engineer of Structural Division with Stone & Webster.

SAWTELLE, '16, HAS SOME BABY

Son of Former Lehigh Athlete Wins Baby Health Contest

George Sawtelle, '16, one of Lehigh's greatest ends and a noted wrestler, is probably the proudest parent in the middle West. George was a nearly perfect specimen of physical development while in college and established a record in physical tests of over 1000 points, or a hundred more than any other student. That he has a son who will follow in his footsteps is evidenced by the following from the "Chicago Herald and Examiner" of August 23, 1921:

"The Middle West," most nearly perfect baby is Flint Sawtelle, 918 Main Street, Evanston, Ill. Flint is 2 years and 11 months old and far surpassed the more than 5000 other babies who were examined with him at the baby house in the Middle West baby health contest. Every morning Flint goes through calisthenics with his father, George Sawtelle, Athletic Coach at North Western University and Technologist for the Livingston Refining Co. After breakfast he plays outdoors until noon and after luncheon he plays again. Flint drinks malted milk at all meals and when he is outdoors he likes to play ball. Flint has a pleasant disposition, blonde hair and blue eyes. He is a good looking boy, especially when he smiles. The seven examining physicians who give him the Chicago and district prize, says he has a wonderful personality and good mind. Flint was born while his father was serving in France as Captain of the Seventh French Mortar Battery and was one year old before he saw his father. Besides $500 cash prize, Flint receives a $200 savings account from the Chicago Trust Co.

LEHIGH WINS RIFLE

MATCH AT PLATTSBURG

Major Lang's proteges certainly cleaned up at the Army Camp at Plattsburg this summer. One company composed entirely of Lehigh men won the Paschal Cup for general efficiency, and the Lehigh sharpshooters won the team marksmanship cup. The match was held on July 13 and 14, and Lehigh won first place in a competition which included twelve college teams. The scores show that the Lehigh students won because of good average scores. Each of the six men totaled more than 210, although none of them was included in the list of high men.

The best Lehigh score, 221, was made by Lewis H. VanBilliard, a student in the Electrical Engineering course, Class of 1923.

The scores of the other Lehigh men were as follows: Regad, 218; Robinson, J. M., 217; Ferguson, 217; Litke, 216; Robinson, E. L., 211.

The teams in order of standing and their scores were as follows: 1, Lehigh, 1300; 2, Syracuse, 1293; 3, Georgetown, 1st, 1282; 4, Univ. of Maryland, 1262; 5, Pennsylvania College, 1250; 6, Delaware College, 1240; 7, Drexel Institute, 1228; 8, Penna. State College, 1223; 9, Lafayette, 1220; 10, Vermont, 1204; 11, Cornell University, 1169; 12, Georgetown, 2nd, 1158.

POSITIONS OPEN

F. J. Duck, '19, writes that any Lehigh graduates who can speak Spanish and can take charge of surveying gangs can secure positions by applying to Mr. Rossiber, care of Maracaibo Oil Co., Room 1604, 43 Exchange Place, New York City. The jobs are in Venezuela, South America.

Walter R. Okeson Elected President of Association of Alumni Secretaries

At the 8th Conference of the Association of Alumni Secretaries held at Cornell University, on May 18, 19 and 20, Lehigh's Alumni Secretary, Walter R. Okeson, was elected President for the ensuing year. "Okey" had previously been Secretary of the organization. Delegates to this conference were present not only from all the important Eastern Colleges and Universities but from most of the Southern and Western ones as well.

MARRIAGES

Class of 1904

On June 4, 1921, Harvey Pettibone Barnard to Miss Carrie Lee Hastings, of Midland, Pa.

Class of 1909

In July, 1921, Robert Neilson Jaggard to Miss Elizabeth Wilson, of Williamsport, Pa.

Class of 1912

On April 5, 1921, John A Hart to Miss Ella Cawley, of Dunmore, Pa.

Class of 1913

On June 4, 1921, Earl F. Weaver to Miss Mary Louise Case, of Danville, Pa.

Class of 1915

On August 7, 1920, Captain Wharton Gerard Iogram, 4th Cavalry, U. S. A., to Miss Una Clara Young, of Brownville, Texas.

On September 1, 1921, Chandler Weaver, II, to Miss Adelia Bosworth Stevens, of Denver, Colo. At home, De Beque, Colo.

Class of 1917

On July 22, 1921, Kyle Samuel Crichton to Miss Mary Collins, of Santa Fe, New Mexico. At home at Albuquerque, N. M.

On June 11, 1921, Frank L. Magee to Miss Marie Weston, of South Orange, N. J.

On July 12, 1921, James S. Munger to Miss Dorothy Louise Stager, of Allentown, Pa. At home at 215 East Kennedy Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Class of 1918

On June 15, 1921, Walter R. Penman to Miss Polly Mumaw, of Hazleton, Pa. At home at 29 South Seventh Street, Lebanon, Pa.

Class of 1920

On June 10, 1921, Dale James Gilmore to Miss Rhea Elizabeth Gohl, of Williamsport, Pa.

Class of 1921

On June 18, 1921, Davis Goodwin Maraspin to Miss Dorothy Blanche Howe, of Malden, Mass.

BIRTHS

Class of 1907

A son, Joel Conger Kent, to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Kent, of Rome, N. Y., on July 24, 1921.

Class of 1908

A second daughter, Virginia Gray Tunstall, to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tunstall, of Saylesville, R. I., on May 13, 1921.

Class of 1912

A son, to Mr. and Mrs. William Richards, of Bethlehem, Pa., on August 23, 1921. This new arrival is a grandson of Dr. Joseph W. Richards, '86, Prof. of Metallurgy at Lehigh.

Class of 1914

A son, Philip Hamilton Browne to Mr. and Mrs. W. Roger Browne, of New York City, on August 2, 1921. "Dink" writes his son is 'due in Lehigh, Class '33." He evidently expects the entrance requirements to be lowered, as this would make this young man graduate before his 12th birthday.

A son, Richard Hugh Graham, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Graham, of Pittsburgh, Pa., on May 25, 1921.

Class of 1915

A son, Carl Edward Siebecker, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Siebecker, of Bethlehem, Pa., on August 3, 1921.

Class of 1916

A son, William Richard Hartman, to Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hartman, of Bethlehem, Pa., on July 20, 1921.

Class of 1917

A daughter, Gale Burton Anderson, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Anderson, of Bethlehem, Pa., on August 26, 1921.

Class of 1918

A daughter, Mary Frances Igoe, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Igoe, of Newark, N. J., on May 11, 1921.

A son, Edgar Fritz Wait, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wait. Speakman, '18, sends this news in a letter dated June 21, 1921, and says the baby "was born about 6 weeks ago."

Class of 1919

A son, Robert Ellwood Rowand, to Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rowand, Jr., of Hammond, Ind., on May 21, 1921.

A daughter, Mary Louise Johnson, to Rev. and Mrs. Fred deForest Johnson, of Tunkhannock, Pa., on July 21, 1921.

Class of 1920

This is to notify the class of the existence of a claimant to the class cup. Robert E. Brown, Jr., born on March 13, 1921, to Robert E. Brown, '20, and Florence M. Brown. Robert E. Jr., has laid formal claim to the class cup, awarded by the class to the first male child born to a member thereof, and his claim is the first and only one that has been filed with the President of the Class.

Any and all claims for this cup shall be made to Mercer B. Tate, Jr., 218 Second Street, Harrisburgh, Penna. If no claims are made before December 1st, 1921, the President will, by virtue of the authority which the class gave him on Class Day, 1920, award the cup to the above-named claimant. This notice will be the only notice of its kind that will be issued before December 1st, 1921.

MERCER B. TATE, JR., President.

DEATHS*Class of 1879

Theodore DeCue Palmer, died at his home, 43 N. Walnut Street, East Orange, N. J., on May 13, 1921, from the effects of a stroke. Up to the time of the first stroke, which occurred several months before his death, he had been an active and vigorous man. Palmer left Lehigh in his sophomore year and entered Union College, graduating there with the degree of C.E., in 1879. He was assistant at Dudley Observatory, Albany, N. Y., for one year, and two years with the New York State Survey. He then went into business and was very successful organizing the "United States Hoffman Co." of Syracuse, N. Y. He founded the Palmer Farm for Newsboys near Syracuse, and was active in charitable and church work. He served for a year in France as an executive of the Y. M. C. A. and had two sons in the service. He leaves to survive him a wife, a daughter and two sons.

Class of 1897

Frank A. Boyer, who was a lawyer in Toledo, Ohio, died on January 28, 1921.

Class of 1907

We have lately been notified that W. E. Nicholson died at Elmira, New York, in June, 1918. Previous to his death he had lived in Fall River where he was employed as an assessor.

Class of 1918

Stratton Vance, originally 1918, but graduating with the degree of E.M. in 1921, died from spinal meningitis on August 17, 1921, in a New York hospital. Vance returned several months ago from South America where he had been employed as a Mining Engineer for the Demerara Bauxite Co., with headquarters in Georgetown, British Columbia. He was taken ill at his home at Port Washington, N. Y., and was finally removed to a New York hospital in order that his trouble might be diagnosed and he died there a few days after his arrival.

Vance spent some time in Nevada as a Mining Engineer before graduating. While in College he was on the Brown and White Board, Junior Prom Committee, Treasurer of the Mining and Geological Society, was on the Epitome Board, belonged to Cyanide Club, Kappa Beta Phi, Scimitar Club, Cotillion Club, and Rifle Club. He was a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Class of 1880

Abraham Bruner, Asst. Engr., Norfolk & Western R. R., Roanoke, Va., was Lehigh's official representative at the inauguration of Dr. Charles J. Smith as President of Roanoke College, Salem, Va., on June 13, 1921.

Class of 1885

George H. Neilson, President, Braeburn Steel Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., was the orator of the day at the Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association of the University of Illinois, on June 14. His subject was, "The Great, Big, Beautiful Universe." Believe me, "Nelly" gave them an earfull. Incidentally he probably told them the center of "The Great, Big, Beautiful Universe" is Packer Hall.

Class of 1886

M. A. DeWolfe Howe, of the Editorial Staff of the Atlantic Monthly, was Lehigh's official representative at the inauguration of Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols as President of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, on June 8, at Cambridge, Mass.

E. S. Stackhouse attended a Class reunion of '86, in London, England, on June 25, 1921. He writes that "100% of the '86 B.Mets. in that country were present." I reckon that means Theodore Stevens and himself. Stackhouse sends for the University Library an illustrated copy of the address of thanks delivered by Sir Robert A. Hadfield on the presentation to him of the John Fritz Medal in London on June 29, 1921.

Class of 1889

T. F. Neuby is now the proprietor of "The Imperial," in Ocean City, N. J. John Morgan, for twenty-five years manager of the Sun Inn, Bethlehem, is the manager.

Class of 1891

The Secretary of the Alumni Association apologizes to '91 for a mix-up in signals with Walton Forstall. '91 agreed to pay the subscription for the BULLETIN for the entire class in advance and Forstall generously undertook to do the collecting. My intention was not to send out any bills to '91 for the BULLETIN until after Forstall made his report. But things got mighty hectic around here in August and I plumb forgot to give instructions to that effect and so the fellows who had already paid Forstall got another bill from our Treasurer. Then a check arrived from Forstall and I woke up. Please forgive me. It won't happen again.

Class of 1892

William Young Brady, who is Supt. of Construction, U. S. Public Buildings, is now in Washington, D. C., with an office in Room 439, Treasury Bldg., and a home at 3819 Morrison Street, N.W.

Aldin B. Diven, formerly Manager of the Diven Mfg. Co., Elmira, N. Y., is now with the Elmira Water, Light & Railroad Co.

Class of 1894

Steve Potts asked the terms on which he could become a Life Member. I told him, and a portion of his letter will illustrate that the only difference between our active members and a lot of the ones who have in the past been inactive is merely that circumstances have put the latter out of touch with Lehigh and its doings. The BULLETIN is bringing Lehigh to them once again and many are coming into the fold and finding a lot of fun in being there. Steve says in part: "You shall have your bond this week. After the cheerful manner in which you assumed I would cancel my obligations I would not have the courage to hold out on you. However, I am only doing something I should have done long ago. My conscience has worried me repeatedly but delay has stilled it. This time worry won out. Send me a halo."

"Further, the enclosed check is in payment for the BULLETIN for the current year. I have never criticized the BULLETIN before but from now on I begin.

"Feel almost as good tonight as though we had licked Lafayette."

And that's the way I felt, Steve, when I got your letter. Gee! It's great to see such a corking bunch of fellows lining up behind Old Lehigh. I hate to see a single good fellow "on the outside looking in."

Class of 1895

C. T. Ayres has been appointed Gen. Mgr. of the Union Carbide Co., Union Carbide Co. of Canada, Ltd., Electro Metallurgical Co., Haynes Stellite Co., Dominion Mines & Quarries, Ltd., Zircron Tool & Alloy Corp., and elected Treasurer of all the subsidiary companies of the Union Carbide & Carbon Corp., including the six companies mentioned above, also National Carbon Co., Prest-O-Lite Co., Linde Air Products Co., Oxweld Oxyethylene Co., etc., etc. Chester Terril will loan a company or two to any '95 man who can prove he never missed a reunion or a Lehigh-Lafayette game.

The members of 1910 will be interested in the following extract from a letter from "Bob" Swope to H. M. Fry, the Class Secretary, written after reading in the June BULLETIN the notice of the death of P. K. Johnson.

"Of course you read the announcement of P. K. Johnson's death and may have suffered somewhat the same shock I did when I saw it. Last Spring at one of the meetings of our local Club, I was delighted to see "P.K." standing in the lobby of the hotel when I entered. Although almost entirely bald, a subject of considerable banter, he looked the same, and acted and talked in the same old quick, energetic manner. A few weeks later I had the pleasure of having him with us at home for dinner and an evening of pleasant recollections following.

"We talked of the old electrical crowd, and others of the class, of the Gym team, of which he was Captain, and I Manager, about the time he dislocated his arm in practice and how we had walked clear over to Broad Street, Bethlehem, to have it set. He told me of his visit to Lay when returning to the States, via China; and so the evening passed. I wish I had made it a point to see him more frequently, but a month or two later he was sent to the State of Washington, and then to Camp Benning, Georgia. I received cards from him from both places, in which he told me of his continued interest in his work. 'P.K.' was a splendid chap, a man's man, and the sort we need both in the Army or civil life. I feel as though I had lost a mighty fine friend."

Dr. James Owen Knauss, Associate Professor of History and for eight years a member of the Liberal Arts Faculty at the Pennsylvania State College, has resigned his position to become a Professor of History and Political Science at the Florida State College for Women, in Tallahassee.

George McKinley is Rector of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church, White Haven, Pa.

Clarence Twombly is putting up a great game as pinch-hitter extraordinary for the Chicago Cubs. He has played in the outfield in a number of games this summer and in addition been called on to bat in many a crises. His batting has been phenomenal and his average has been as good as the leading league sluggers.

George Lees has also been playing a great game behind the bat for the Chicago White Sox. Only the fact that Schalk, the best catcher in the League, is on the Sox pay-roll prevents George from catching regularly, for he is admitted to be one of the best catchers in the American League and is hitting the ball hard in all the games in which he plays.

Class of 1921

Members of the Class of '21:

First of all, is this your copy of the BULLETIN you are reading? In other words, have you paid up. If not, send "Okey" $2.00 for your subscription as we want every '21 man a subscriber and a member of the Alumni Association—which reminds me—are you one of the few who didn't join the Association last June? If so, send in your dues ($1.00) right away. WE WANT THAT ACTIVE MEMBERSHIP CUP!

"Mike" Huebner is back from California and reports that only $275 of the $800 promised has been paid in for the 1921 scholarships. College has opened and if 1921 is to make good in this original scheme those who pledged themselves must come through. "Mike's" address is 445 Hamilton Street, Allentown, Pa.

"Al" Maginnis, Chairman of our Executive Committee has charge of our Reunion for next June. You will hear about the plans for it in the near future.

Yours of '21.

COLGATE'S

HANDY GRIP
The Refill Shaving Stick

Like Renewing a Battery in a Flashlight

PUTTING a "Refill" into Colgate's "Handy Grip" is easy and simple. The soap itself is threaded to screw into the socket. It's done in a moment.

"Refills" cost you the price of the soap alone. Moisten the bit removed from the "Handy Grip" and stick it upon the end of the "Refill." There is no waste.

Colgate's lathers freely; softens the most difficult beard; needs no mussy rubbing in with the fingers, and leaves the face cool and refreshed.

Colgate's Shaving Stick not only produces the most soothing lather for the average man but it is a little more economical in use than powder and much more economical than cream. As we make all three, we can give you this impartial advice.

COLGATE & CO.
Dept. 212
199 Fulton St., New York

The metal "Handy Grip," containing a trial size stick of Colgate's Shaving Soap, sent for 10c. When the trial stick is used up you can buy the Colgate "Refill," threaded to fit this Grip.

"Bob" Billinger is preparing for Annapolis. Address, College Green, care of Prof. Rippere, Annapolis, Md.

"Josh" Pumphrey is located with Mr. G. C. White, '97, Consulting Engineer, at Greensboro, N. C.

Adam Brucher is instructor in business subjects, Bethlehem Prep. School.

"Bey" Bevan has a fine position with the Dravo Contracting Company, Diamond Bank Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa. He is living at 1446 Ridge Avenue, Coraopolis, Pa., care of H. M. Cochran.

"Dave" Maraspin is working for the American Fruit Co., and is stationed at Guatemala. "Dave" was married in June and is now in line for the Class Cup.

"Gus" Savaria has been playing ball in Massachusetts during the summer.

"Muggsy" Thompson is going back in the fall to take a Post Grad.

P. M. Frank has secured a good position as Asst. Curator of the Division of Mineral Technology at the National Museum, Washington, D.C.

"Jim" and "Mike" Huebner are both on a three months trip to California.

"Fred" Rheinfrank is with Ames Emerich Co. (bond house), 111 Broadway, New York City.

Do you want to keep '21 on the map? Help the Class along by sending in any personal items you may know of concerning yourself or others, to H. C. Baily, 211 Noble Avenue, Crafton, Pa. If they are received before the 10th of the month they will be published in the next issue. By the way, if you haven't paid your Alumni dues or subscribed to the BULLETIN, do it now!

"LIMOID" for ECONOMY

In Laying Brick with cement-mortar an addition of "Limoid" (pure "Cedar Hollow" hydrated lime) to the mortar mixture will enable bricklayers to lay more bricks per hour and will give a better bonding mortar.

In placing Concrete an addition of "Limoid" will give a faster flowing mass which will be freer from "honey-comb" and weak sections.

The small Rotary Ratchet Counter shown at left is a most adaptable counter for practical and experimental work. It counts reciprocating movements of the lever, as required in recording the output of stamping-presses. When the lever is moved through an angle of 40 to 60 degrees, the counter registers one. A complete revolution of the lever registers ten. This counter is applicable to no end of small machines, by adjusting the throw of the lever.

Price, $2.00. (Cut nearly full-size).

Veeder Counters are made for every machine that should have one—all the models are shown in the Veeder counter booklet. Special circulars describe the other Veeder products; write for any or all of them.

Worthington satisfies every power plant pumping need

IMMENSE shop facilities, standardized manufacturing plus over 81 years of designing, improving and manufacturing pumps and pumping machinery have resulted in apparatus of suitable design for every power plant pumping duty.

This broad range and varied choice of apparatus together with over 200,000,000 boiler horse power successfully satisfied since 1840 justifies specifying Worthington for power plant apparatus. The Worthington engineering corps always stand ready to co-operate in order to obtain greatest possible results from apparatus selected.
